STANDARD OIL CAN CUT SEVERAL MELONS

which cost us $3,000,000,000, according to the president's statement. Now they are worth only $200,000,000, or 7 per cent of their cost, according to Mr. Edmonds (Rep.) of the committee (on Merchant Marine).

May Take 20 or 30 Years

"It may take 20 or 30 years to dispose of these ships under the Lanker administration; no one knows. The hearings show that Standard Oil and Steel have the most honest fleets of ships now afloat. They will reap the largest benefits from the bill, I understand. These two companies are now dividing about $1,500,000,000 in stock dividend melons between them, made up of extra profits that have been exported from the American public, and Standard Oil has exacted about 77 1/2 per cent net profits from the people annually during the past ten years, which includes profits on its great fleet of ships."

Representative Fear then quoted testimony given before the House Committee on Merchant Marine to the effect that the Standard Oil Company, the United States Steel Corporation, and the United States Fruit Company are the principal owners of the 3,100,000 tons of cargo shipping now in foreign trade under the American flag.

The International Mercantile Marine is the largest owner of the 500,000 tons of passenger vessels now operating under the American flag according to this testimony.

The great Standard Oil Company will get enormous benefits under this bill. Let me tell you what it will get. Standard Oil and Steel are to buy more ships under this bill at 2 per cent interest rates—no less than the government pays for the money it borrows to loan these great companies. The farmers of the country generally pay from 7 to 10 per cent interest on their loans, and the farmers of my state are selling potatoes at 23 cents and wheat around 11 a bushel, while the average income of 10,000,000 farmers last year was far below $500.

Borrow at 2 Per Cent

"Standard Oil under this bill can borrow from the government at 2 per cent for 15 years, while the government pays more than double that rate for the same money and the farmer often pays four times that rate."

"Under this bill Standard Oil gets many millions annually for its ships that carry its own oil, that is therefore sold at 7 1/2 per cent net profit. Our farmers are paying higher freight rates than ever before and selling their products often below cost."

"President Harding vetoed the soldiers' bonus bill because it did not have a sales tax, and we now face a $870,000,000 treasury deficiency due to the repeal of the excess profits tax. This subsidy bill will take many millions more from the treasury in tax refunds that are already estimated to reach upward of $500,000,000. How much more will be lost to the treasury under this bill nobody knows."

Representative Fear declared that in direct and indirect subsidies the bill will cost the taxpayers $75,000,000 a year. None of the proponents of the bill or the Republican leaders challenged Mr. Fear's statement of fact.

Following Mr. Fear's speech, Representative Tinchler (Rep. Kans.) attacked the measure and called on his Republican colleagues in charge of the bill to refute, if they could, the allegation that the Standard Oil Company, the U. S. Steel Corporation, and the United States Fruit Company would be the chief beneficiaries of the subsidies.

"If that statement is true and can not be successfully denied, then the Democratic party will be the principal beneficiary by the enactment of any such legislation as this," declared Representative Tinchler.

His statement was applauded by Republicans as well as Democrats in the chamber.

Farmer "Prosperous" But "Extravagant"

Farmers who imagine they are experiencing hard times will receive as glad tidings the statement of Representative Snyder (Republican) of New York that their condition in 1922, under this Republican administration, is much better than it was in 1909 under a previous Republican administration. This is not much consolation, but it may pass for information, anyhow.

"We must admit that conditions on the farm have changed since then (1909), and changed for the better, and these improved conditions must be retained," said Representative Snyder, in discussing the ship subsidy bill which he supported.

Then Mr. Snyder began to give proofs of the farmer's relative prosperity. He said:

"We must not forget that even as late as 1913 or 1914, there were very few farmers who had automobiles or power-driven machinery. Now all those things have come, and some of the farmers have not made enough money to pay for all the improvements they have purchased; and it may be, as the President suggested in his speech the other day, that it will be necessary for this country to aid the farmers in some manner until they are able to meet the payments upon those things which they bought on more or less of prospect."

Mr. Snyder, in this latter statement, accuses the farmer of having tried to live beyond his means and says something will have to be done to relieve him from the distress into which his "extravagance" has plunged him.

No Longer Needed to Fool Negro Voter

With the latest election a month past and the next some two years distant, the Republican administration feels somewhat free to permit the defeat of legislation which was proposed largely as a bid for American negro votes.

The resolution authorizing a loan of $5,000,000 to Liberia, the "black" Republic in Africa, has been shelved, with the help of standpat Republicans, including Senators Watson of Indiana, Cameron of Arizona, Nicholson of Colorado, Fernald of Maine, and Harrell of Oklahoma.

The Dyer anti-lynching bill, which also was used as a bait for negro votes in the recent election, is yet on the calendar of the senate, having passed the house last spring. There is not much prospect that this bill will be passed at the present session of Congress at all.

When the exigencies of the next presidential campaign oblige the Republicans, it is expected, will devise another legislative program designed to attract and delude the negroes. Meantime, since there are no votes to be obtained by such devices as the Liberian loan and the anti-lynching bill, they are pretty certain to be pigeonholed indefinitely.

thage, after a red hot campaign. This senatorial district, the Twenty-eighth, consists of Jasper county, alone.

Probable Contest From Greene County

Greene county, when the House convenes on the first Wednesday of next January, will be represented by two democrats, E. A. Barbour and T. K. Bowman, both of Springfield, and one republican, E. E. Taylor, also of Springfield. Orville E. Jennings, the third democratic legislative candidate, was defeated election day by Taylor by only one vote. A contest will probably follow before Taylor can officially take his seat. Friends of Jennings

Buchanan County Delegation

Buchanan county will be represented in the House by two democrats, Clayton O. Judson and Harry C. Vinton, and one republican, Harry Nisloep. The three are from St. Joseph. The failure of Buchanan county to elect three republican representatives was balanced through the victory of the former representative, Ernest R. James of St. Joseph for state senator in the Second district. The parliamentary experience Senator-elect James gained while in the House in past years will prove a rich asset when he dons the toga in the upper body in early 1923.

Among the counties with one representative each which went republican in 1920 and democratic in 1922, are: Adair, Barry, Bates, Daviess, Gentry, Carter, Dent, Jefferson, Johnson, Laclede, McDonald, Macon, Madison, St. Francois, Monticau, New Madrid, Nodaway, Pemiscot, Phelps, Ste. Genevieve, Scotland, Wayne, Howell, Knox, Polaski, Scott, Sullivan and Wright.
